

Suicide Risk Management Consultation Program Lecture Series

The Role of Psychosocial and Vocational Rehabilitation in Suicide Prevention

Please register by January 11, 2022 (VA Registration and Non-VA Registration)

Overview

Program Description:

Psychosocial and vocational rehabilitation programs and resources can promote recovery and reduce the risk of suicide among Veterans.

This month, a panel of presenters (Bakken, Bradford and Smith) will discuss the Psychosocial Rehabilitation and Recovery Services Section of the VHA's Office of Mental Health and Suicide Prevention and how these programs include a prominent suicide prevention component.

Following this live, knowledge-based webinar, clinicians and health care teams will be able to:

- Provide an overview of how the risk of suicide and internalized stigma increases and how sense of belonging can mitigate risk
- Describe how psychosocial rehabilitation programs can provide Veterans with meaningful connections and increase sense of purpose
- Review how psychosocial rehabilitation programs work together to increase employment for Veterans with serious mental illness
